How this plan works

Here at FX Fitness Experience, we regularly get asked for meal plans to see “exactly” what to eat, and when. The issue with this is that everyone needs good nutrition, but that is based on several factors such as body type, weight, activity levels, health, body composition and a lot more! We’ve put this plan together to give you an option, and an idea of good nutrition, but please be aware that this is not an exact plan. It will require you to ensure you are aware of portion sizes, cooking methods etc and have a basic understanding of nutrition (see our Nutrition Ebook on your diet plan section of the app!).

However, we feel this plan will be an easy to follow guide to get started with good nutrition, and our partners at Edwards butchers have helped us to put together a weekly meat box for FX Fitness Experience clients that can be collected upon order, and can be split up into two pick-ups if you choose to avoid freezing any of the meat.

How to order

We suggest 2 pick-ups per week, one on Monday and one on Thursday. Please order your meat box a minimum of 2 hours before collection where possible, by calling Edwards on 01282 422051.

You will need to leave your name to get the FX discount. If you wish to swap certain products, that’s fine, just let them know. Please be aware although discount will still apply, this may alter the price.

How Strict is the plan?

Remember, this is an example meal plan to provide you with ideas for salads, veg, salad dressings, shakes/smoothies and cooked meals, therefore if you wish to create your own, that’s fine! But remember to stick to good nutrition, and consider your calories & macros. If you wish to reduce calories, try to keep to lower fats and carbohydrate meals (but include enough good fats!), and discuss possible changes with your PT. If you wish to increase calories, adding protein shakes and bars, or increasing the carbohydrate content of some meals on this plan may be appropriate.

This example plan not only gives you 4 meals a day, it also has a supermarket shopping list attached based on these example meals. Please note that the alternative shakes/smoothies, salad dressings and the alternative chilli are not included in your supermarket shopping list. Again, here we are looking to give you an idea on good nutrition, so feel free to mix up all the sides to make it work for you (but consider calories when doing so!).
